DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to applicant's Supplemental Appeal Brief filed on Jan.
 2006. Claims 1-16 are pending in the present application.

2. EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT/COMMENT

Applicant has agreed to the following amendment during his telephonic interview with the Examiner held on July 20, 2006:

- (i) Claim 1, line # 5, change "sampled line voltage" -----line voltage----
- (ii) Claim 1, line # 5, change "sampled line current" -----line current----
- (ii) Claim 4, line # 2, change "programming"----providing----

The Interview summary is enclosed.

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim I identifies the uniquley distict feature of a method of monitoring subscriber loop interface circuitry power dissipation, the method comprising the steps of: a) sampling at least one of a tip and a ring signal to determine a line voltage and a line current of a linefeed component of a subscriber loop; b) estimating an instantaneous power dissipation of the linefeed component using the line voltage and line current; and c) filtering the estimated instantaneous power dissipation to generate an estimated

ì

junction temperature of the linefeed component. As such, claim 1 requires converting the instantaneous power dissipation into a temperature of the linefeed. However, the closest priro art, Kaplan [US 4,355,341] teaches estimating instantaneous power dissipation of a semiconductor, but he fails to generate a temperature using the instantaneous power dissipation. In this context, the applicant's argument is persuasive in that Kaplan does not teach or suggest all claim limitations. Thus, the prior art of records does not teach these limitations. Therefore, claim 1 is indicated allowable.

Cliams 5 and 7 are essentailly similar to claim 1 and hence they are also indicated allowable.

Claims 2-4 being dependent from claim 1, claims 6 being dependent from claim 5, and claims 8-12 being dependent from claim 7 are also indicated allowable.

4. The examiner's statement of reasons for allowance for claims 13-16 has been given in the prior office action, dated Aug. 11, 2004.

New search updates revealed no other prior art which teaches the limitations in the context of the claims.

3. The claims have been re-numbered as follows:

Claim no. 1 along with figure number 1 will be published in the Official Gazette.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
